

Motivation Text:

I equate personal development and spiritual purification with other serious study methods.

During walks on Skeppsholmen grew the idea of doing a longer trek .

It synced well with my former track; Exposing myself to the social context.

Juanmas's art consists in part by putting yourself in situations and bring people together and to document that.

The walk feels retrospective as a bodily cleansing along with the other pilgrims .

It was extremely rewarding for me to put myself in social situations . Even if you get panic, we must still try to solve it . The result will be that he now for ex. will report on "Research weekend" . Compile this project into some kind of an art form .

All the best, Magnus broddy
